2025 WILDLIFE SUPPER & AWARDS

Macklin Wildlife Federation held another successful Awards banquet on January 11th. The annual sold out event is one of the clubs' biggest fundraisers, with proceeds going back into various projects and programs around the community. The Club went above and beyond with the delicious food options that were prepared, guests could be found trying various cuts of Moose, Elk, Deer, Wild Boar, Rabbit, Fowl, and Fish. After everyone had enjoyed supper, the club started to announce and award the winners in all Big Game and Fish categories. Once again, all attendees were able to take in the stage display of most of the Big Game animals harvested from our area this last year, as well as a lineup of live auctions, raffle draws, and silent auction items abroad. The event continues to bring out people from all over our area to take part in all the night has to offer. The Macklin Wildlife Federation would like to take this opportunity to thank each and every one of their sponsors, volunteers, and attendees, without your support events like this are not made possible. We had a lot of Non Entries, we encourage everyone to enter their heads and the more youth we get involved the better. Parents can buy Memberships through Dustin Rissling at 306-753-8026

Hi all, from St. Joe's!

We have been winding down here since Christmas ended, things are starting to go back to normal and we aren't partying as much!

Superb Sound and Friends came in to entertain us at the beginning of January, which was a great way to kick off the year. We also had the Handbell Choir come and play for us, and they were amazing! We want to send a huge THANK-YOU to everyone who comes into St. Joseph's to play music for us, we appreciate it more than you know.

Unfortunately, we lost some special people over the holidays. Shirley Neil passed away on December 27th, 2024, and Shirley Forbes passed on January 12th, 2025. We send their families our love and prayers on the loss of their loved ones. They will both be missed dearly.

As well, our very own Peggy lost her son, Dean, on January 13th, 2025. We offer our sincerest condolences and prayers to Peggy and her family at this difficult time.

Something that always brightens our day is when our Senior Buddies from the Macklin School come to visit us. We were lucky enough to see them twice last month, and we were so happy to get to see them again. They have been reading so well, and the crafts they make us mean so much. Thank you, Grade 4s for keeping us smiling!

Until next time,
Kira Thring, St. Joseph's Recreation Coordinator

News from the Hall

Hey all from the Hall!

Imagine if the power went out right now and stayed out for 3 days. How prepared would you be?? The Government of Canada and the Red Cross say you should have some sort of plan and Emergency Kit that would help you stay safe for 72 hours. A big part of what you have in this kit should be determined by what time of year it is and what the weather is like.

Your kit should also be portable, like a large duffel bag and easy to transport in case you are asked to evacuate. A basic Emergency kit is not that hard to assemble and most of the items in it might already be in your home. A Basic kit should have: 2 bottles of water per day for each person in your house. Non perishable food items such as canned goods, energy bars, granola, peanut butter, trail mix etc. (these items should be checked regularly for expiry dates) A manual can opener. A wind up or battery powered radio and flashlight, (extra batteries) A First Aid Kit. Extra keys for your car and house. Any medications that need to be taken daily. Some extra cash in small bills and coins. Extra clothes, coats and underwear. Personal hygiene products and toilet paper. Sleeping bags or blankets. Cell phone chargers and a printed list of emergency contact numbers. Paper and Pens. A simple tool kit with a pair of pliers, hammer, screwdriver and duct tape. Small toys, games, and deck of cards. A whistle. If you have family pets you might want to consider what they would need as well. These are just some suggestions. There is great information on line of the Government of Canada or Red Cross web sites to help you with this. Some companies even sell complete kits. Your kit will vary, depending on your household and occupants. We all hope we are never in a situation where we need a kit like this, but a little bit of preparation now could make a big difference someday.

Be safe out there every one.

Strathcona Donation Supports New Foam Trailer for Macklin & District Fire/Rescue

December 2016, crew members of Macklin & District Fire/Rescue responded to the site of an incident at an oil and gas production site. A 1,000-barrel (bbl) oil tank was ablaze, sending dark plumes of smoke into the prairie sky – black smoke that could be seen from town 30 km away.

The Macklin team arrived with 1,200 gallons of water and limited foam – firefighting foam used to suppress a blaze, cooling and coating it, preventing its contact with oxygen.

“We were concerned we’d use all our water and not be able to control the fire. So we proceeded to cool the other tanks and let the tank fire burn until our mutual aid partners showed up,” said Macklin Fire Chief Justin Bast.

Upon the arrival of the Provost Fire Department, burning oil spread to four other tanks in the containment yard... explosion, a tank lid rocketed to the sky. There was little the local teams could do but contain the blaze and wait for reinforcements from Red Deer, which took a harrowing three hours – then another 25 hours to extinguish the fire completely.

A retired oilfield service provider of 27 years, Chief Bast has also spent nearly 30 years working for the fire department. “To put out an oilfield tank fire, you need both water and foam. Oil and water don’t mix, without the foam, it would be nothing short of amazing to put it out with just water.”

Today, the Macklin & District Fire/Rescue is raising funds to source a new foam firefighting trailer with manifold and water cannon. With oil and gas production sites in the region, Strathcona Resources stepped forward with a $50,000 donation to support this necessary resource.

“Strathcona is a key stakeholder in the community,” said Randy Gartner, Team Lead, Healthy & Safety, Strathcona Resources. “This essential resource is huge not just for Strathcona and our peer companies in the region, but to the surrounding residents.”

Chief Bast says a foam trailer would reduce the water needed in a similar scenario by 90 per cent. Less water means less water waste, less cleanup, easier containment for an oil fire. What took more than 50,000 gallons of water and 25 hours to extinguish eight years ago, could have been cut down to 5,000 gallons and just one or two hours.

“If we were to show up to a fire today with a foam trailer, we’d have a successful outcome; the fire, risk, damages and losses would never reach the level that it did years ago.”

The foam trailer that Chief Bast is proposing can hold two totes of foam, up to 2,200 litres worth. Its manifold system can hook up to two or three fire trucks that inject foam and spray water at the same time. The foam layers on top of a blaze, cutting out its oxygen, like covering a small stovetop fire with flour.

According to Chief Bast, the foam trailer provides the department with another tool in their toolbox that the community, neighbouring communities, and mutual aid partners would be able to utilize in the unlikely event of an oilfield fire or, for example, a train derailment with rail lines that cut through both Macklin and Provost. It would put the Macklin and Provost department in a better capacity to manage these types of incidents.

“We’re 50 per cent away from our fundraising target,” said Chief Bast. “We thank Strathcona for supporting our department and the communities we work in. It’s essential.”

Residents were treated to caroling and Christmas music from Bea Fischer, the Knights of Columbus, Evesham Community Church, Macklin's Public School's Grade 2 class, and Macklin Daycare! With the help of our fantastic community, Secret Santa made sure that every resident had a big smile when their gifts were delivered on Christmas Eve. The Auxiliary surprised residents with a Christmas party with top-notch entertainment and great food, and Evesham Community Church helped residents to prepare our own Christmas cakes.
